

Whiskey World Cup @ Mahlzeit

By ayemya - May 3, 2016

The Whiskey World Cup is underway with the first round completed last Friday at Mahlzeit. This series of blind-tasting whiskeys from around the world has been organized by the Yangon Whiskey Club, where members brought bottles from their home countries for the competition. Participants lined the bar trying samples, giving mixed reactions. Finland took the Gold by a wide margin which qualifies the country for the World Cup finals.

The Results (% of votes)

Finland (Teerenpeli 10 years old 49%)

Taiwan (Kavalan Concertmaster 35%)

Wales (Penderyn Single Malt 11%)

Holland (Millstone 5 years old 4%)

Germany (Glen Els The Journey 1%)

The next Whiskey Club event will be a tasting session that includes Myanmar distilleries as well as other countries. You can register here, no experience necessary, to join the 13th May event. Venue TBD.
